

Setting the Industry Technology Agenda The 2001 Forest, Wood and Paper Industry Technology Summit

1.0. Agenda 2020 Background and Retrospective	1
1.1. The Need for an Industry Commitment to Innovation	1
1.2. Agenda 2020—The Industry's Technology Vision and Road Map	2
1.2.1. Impressive Results in Agenda 2020—First Six Years	2
1.2.2. Six Strategic Technology Platforms	3
1.3. The Path Forward	3
2.0. The Technology Summit	5
2.1. Purpose, Planning and Participation	5
2.2. Process and Deliverables	6
2.3. Support from Senior Industry Executives	7
2.4. Significant Conclusions from the Technology Summit	9
2.4.1. The Essential Elements of Success	9
2.4.2. The Results of Successful Execution	9
2.5. New Research Directions	9
2.5.1. Maintain Value at Reduced Cost	10
2.5.2. Value from Breakthrough Technologies and New Intellectual Assets	10
2.5.3. The Case for Collaboration	10
2.5.4. Setting the Technology Agenda	10
3.0. Industry Research Needs	27
3.1. Higher Value Raw Material Supply	29
3.1.1. Sustainable Forest Productivity	31
3.1.2. Innovative Wood Resources	45

3.2. Significantly Reduced Manufacturing Costs	49
3.2.1. Introduction to Breakthrough Technology	51
3.2.1.1. High Consistency Single Vessel Bleach Plant	55
3.2.1.2. Compact, Highly Integrated Recovery System	59
3.2.1.3. Highly Selective Pulping	65
3.2.1.4. Fibrous Fillers	69
3.2.1.5. One-Way press	73
3.2.1.6. One Step Forming and Drying	77
3.2.1.7. Simplified Paper Machine	81
3.2.1.8. Recycled Materials	85
3.2.1.9. Innovative Wood Building Systems	91
3.2.2. Process Automation	95
3.2.2.1. Process Visibility-Sensors	99
3.2.2.2. Decision-Making Tools	103
3.2.2.3. Control Systems Techniques	107
3.2.3. Fiber Engineering	113
3.3. Technologically Advanced Workforce	121
3.4. Environmental Performance	131
3.5. Superior Energy Performance	139
3.5.1. Black Liquor and Biomass Gasification	141
3.5.2. Energy Reduction in Wood Processing	153
3.5.3. Energy Reduction in Pulp and Paper Manufacture	157
3.6. New Forest Based Materials	161
3.6.1. New Approaches	163
3.6.2. Composite Materials	177
3.6.3. Wood Adhesives, Resins and Composites	183
3.7. Integrator's Report	187
 Appendix
A. Strategic Goals and Gaps	191
B. Session Participants	199
