Corporate Information

Raisio Chemicals - All for Paper

Raisio Chemicals develops, manufactures and markets chemical products and product concepts for the paper and board industry. With in-depth knowledge of all the different stages of paper production, Raisio Chemicals provides the customers with high quality functional chemicals and technologies for high quality end products.

The product range consists of latexes, starch derivatives, hydrophobic sizes, cationic polymers and paper process chemicals, coating additives, and chemicals for fiber treatment in de-inking. The company operates world-wide.

Focus on customer service and R&D

Raisio Chemicals has always carried out research and development work in close co-operation with customers and advanced research institutes. Through comprehensive understanding of the papermaking processes, Raisio Chemicals ensures that their chemical concepts fulfill customer needs and follow the major trends in paper manufacturing, paper coating, printing technology and environmental issues.
