BDA announces a new study of the North American Corrugated Market.

This in-depth study contains 100 pages of insightful content and 86 tables and charts. The study provides a new look at the category and its major product and market segments and analyzes the impact and implications of recent / emerging developments on the performance of these individual segments and the category as a whole. The base year is 2008 with projections to 2013 and historical perspective from 2003.

The scope of the analysis includes the following:

- Market size and demand drivers
- Sub segment breakdowns and analyses
- Future demand outlook and likely developments
- Technology and end user developments
- End user / retailer dynamics and emerging changes / developments.

Segmentation Analysis and Scope

Major segments and sub-segments will be analyzed in detail and in the context of the overall drivers of category demand. 12 different segmentations of the overall category volume will be performed (as shown in the list to the left) resulting in over 60 individual sub-segments that are analyzed and quantified.
Study Content

Over 60 individual product and market segments will be analyzed and quantified. These segments are the most important within the North American corrugated market. The base year is 2008 with volume estimates and growth rates provided since 2003 and through 2013.

A total of 86 tables and charts are included as detailed below.

North American Corrugated Packaging Segmentation Study and Opportunity Assessment

Table of Contents

1. Introduction
   - Study Objective
   - Scope
   - Methodology
   - BDA Qualifications
   - Data / Liability Limitations

2. Executive Summary
   - Corrugated Industry Overview
   - Corrugated Segments
   - Market Segment Size and Growth Rates
   - Outlook

3. Corrugated Market Overview
   - Market Size and Historical Results
   - Corrugated Importance by Product Category
   - Industry Structures by Product Category

4. Segmentation Analysis
   - Overview
   - Value of Segmenting the Market
   - Board and Liner Basis Weight
   - Print Surface
   - Flute Types
   - Print Methods
   - Specialty Coatings
   - Board Applications
   - Distribution Channels
   - Product Categories
   - Regional Demand

5. Industry Outlook
   - Emerging / Significant Trends and Developments
   - Major Threats and Opportunities
Study Methodology

This study is based on a wide range of data sources and analytical techniques. Information sources include:

- Personal interviews and discussions with industry supply chain members including end users, converters, paper producers, merchants, suppliers, and other intermediaries and industry observers.
- Retail store, warehouse, commercial channel field visits
- Government census, economic, trade, and manufacturer surveys and databases
- Industry information sources including trade journals, associations, company websites, product releases, published studies and surveys, association data, and other publicly available information
- Internal databases, analysis, and professional experience.

BDA Qualifications / Expertise

BDA’s principal, Frank Perkowski, has over 30 years of experience within the paper and packaging industry in senior marketing positions. This includes direct experience in graphic paperboard markets and over twelve years as an industry-focused management consultant. As a consultant, Frank has worked on over 180 consulting assignments helping industry clients solve a wide range of business and market-related problems. This is a follow-up to a 2005 study on the graphic corrugated market.
