In 1915, 30 enterprising papermakers gathered together, determined to form a new technical arm of the American Paper & Pulp Association (APPA). Their idea was to gather and disseminate information concerning matters that have to do with production. This forward-thinking group wanted to create a forum where information could be channeled and ideas could be exchanged. In less than a year, TAPPI was born, and 100 years later, their formula for success continues to work.

Our Roots Run Deep (No Pun Intended)
TAPPI is a not-for-profit, volunteer-led association that is built around a community comprised of thousands of member engineers, managers, scientists, academics, suppliers and others from around the world. Our headquarters is located right outside of Atlanta, Georgia, USA. Members love to tour the building and see historic items such as early TAPPI Standards, issues of TAPPI publications dating back to the early 1920s or our unique collection of papermaking heirlooms. If you stop by, take a tour of our library and don’t forget to walk out on the deck to see the legendary TAPPI totem pole, donated by our Pacific Local Section. Take a short walk down the halls and meet the TAPPI team and hear first-hand about some of the great things our members and volunteers are doing to support the TAPPI community.

Innovation
Our focus has always been on emerging technologies and driving innovation for the paper and packaging industry. Yet, we are so much more. Our growing international membership ranks include rising stars in bioenergy and biofuels, renewable chemicals, sustainability and nanotechnology areas.

We Set the Standard – Literally
As an ANSI-Certified Standards development organization, TAPPI’s peer-reviewed Standards ensure that products meet industry-recognized best practices. Our Standards not only demonstrate how to maximize performance, they provide new ideas and operational methods to improve production. Our members and volunteers drive the development of the Standards and TIPs that are used around the world.

Providing Quality Education
We provide premier educational resources to support the day-to-day duties of industry professionals, as well as research and academic pursuits. We do so by offering over 30 international conferences, symposia, and courses each year, and our IACET-approved status ensures quality, and continuous improvement, in all our event programs.

Fit to Print – Naturally!
When our members look for leading-edge news in the industry, they turn to us as the go-to resource. That’s because our targeted publications serve up the knowledge and news they need — tailored specifically to their areas of interest. There are 11 publications and specialty newsletters that are free with membership, including Paper360°, our flagship publication, Tissue360°, our newest offering, and TAPPI Journal, a peer-reviewed, scientific periodical covering key research and technology developments.

Power of TAPPI Members
We’ve never lost sight of what keeps us thriving, our incredibly talented community of members, volunteers and experts. Keeping them informed, engaged and energized is our goal. We provide an open forum for communication and an environment to cultivate relationships with some of the brightest minds in the industry. All backed by a rock solid antitrust compliance policy. Our members leverage the power of peer-to-peer connections, and tap into the largest repository of technical industry information in the world.
RISI'S PPI MAGAZINE MERGES WITH TAPPI'S Paper360°

RISI, the leading information provider for the global forest products industry, and TAPPI, the leading association for the worldwide pulp, paper, packaging, tissue and converting industries today announced the merger of RISI's PPI Magazine with TAPPI's Paper360° Magazine. This partnership will combine the industry’s two leading magazines covering global developments, trends and manufacturing innovation for the pulp and paper industry.

“Our members represent 66 countries and some of the leading paper and packaging companies from around the globe. That’s why we are uniting the two most powerful magazines in the industry,” said Larry N. Montague, President and CEO, TAPPI.

“By partnering with TAPPI, we will combine the strengths of our organizations. Each publication covers different aspects of the market and together, we will provide a more complete and accurate view of the industry,” said Iain Murray, COO, RISI.

The co-branded magazine will continue to be managed by TAPPI. RISI will provide editorial support with content such as popular features: Top 50 Powerlist, Top 100 paper manufacturers, PPI Awards coverage, and market trends and viewpoints.

“This partnership with RISI enables us to further our mission of providing premier educational and information resources that support the advancement of industry professionals. Our combined resources will enable us to provide an even better balance of business and technical content for our readers,” said Montague.

The merging of Pulp & Paper International magazine into Paper360° provides advertisers a wealth of benefits including:

- The combined strength of the industry’s two leading publications.
- An even better balance of business and technical content
- The strongest editorial strength of any global publication.
- The opportunity to focus ads in a single publication for strength of frequency.
- The continuation of great PPI articles such as Top 50 Power List, Top 100 Global Manufacturers, PPI Awards coverage, and market trends and viewpoints
- Distribution of your message to the broadest international circulation list.
- Editorial backed by the strength of both TAPPI and RISI.

Combined, the organizations bring over 200 years of publishing experience to the joint effort. An international editorial staff comprised of editors, engineers and economists, will continue to deliver relevant and timely content from a global perspective.
Reach more than 32,000 industry professionals in print and online — all decision makers in the global pulp and paper industry.

Regularly cited as the top benefit for TAPPI members, Paper360° and its partner publications, websites and eNewsletters provide the pulp and paper industry with a business resource to reach top global buyers, influencers and specifiers in print and online.

EDITORIAL TEAM

GLENN OSTLE
Associate Publisher/Editorial Director, Paper360°

Glenn has worked in the pulp and paper industry for more than 30 years, first as advertising manager for AccuRay Corporation (today part of ABB), and then 20 years as vice president of marketing and communications for Metso Paper (today Valmet) in North America. He has been a TAPPI member or corporate representative to TAPPI for almost his entire career in the industry. He also spent more than 15 years as an involved PIMA volunteer serving as Affiliate Chairman, board member and Trustee. In 2002 he won the Thomas F. Sheerin, Sr., Service Award for outstanding contributions to the pulp and paper industry and the community. During his career Glenn has written extensively about the pulp and paper industry, and shortly after taking an early retirement from Metso Paper, he helped start the new Paper360° magazine.

KEN PATRICK
Editorial Director, Tissue360° Senior Editor, Paper360°

Veteran paper industry editor Ken Patrick has more than 30 years experience in the pulp and paper industry. Ken joined the Paper360° and TAPPI staff in December 2006 and serves as Editorial Director of Tissue360°, Senior Editor with Paper360° as well as Pulp & Paper Team Leader for TAPPI. Ken started his career in the pulp and paper industry as a Research Communications Supervisor for International Paper from 1973-1978. From 1978-1995, Ken worked his way to the top editorial position with Pulp & Paper magazine and helped compile, edit and author a series of 10 books published by Miller Freeman. Ken was managing editor for Pulp & Paper Online, one of the 58 Vertical Net internet portal communities and before coming to TAPPI, was Editorial Director for PaperAge magazine.

JAN BOTTIGLIERI
Associate Editor, Paper360°

Jan Bottiglieri has a long history with pulp and paper publishing beginning in 1988 as an Assistant Editor at PIMA Magazine and later with PIMA’s Papermaker and Solutions! magazine. She has visited and reported on paper mills, packaging plants, and manufacturing facilities in North America, Finland, Sweden, Japan, Germany and China, and recently was lead writer for TAPPI's 100-year commemorative book, Celebrating a Century of Achievement.

MONICA SHAW
Editorial Director, TAPPI Journal

Monica has more than 20 years of professional writing experience, with 11 years in b2b publishing as an editor with Pulp & Paper magazine and contributing editor with Tissue World and PPI magazines. Before that she was an analyst in the aerospace industry, as well as a technical writer in charge of documenting database software and industrial controller products.

LESLEE MASTERS
Managing Editor

Leslee Masters is editor and oversees production of Paper360° and Tissue360° magazines. She has worked with Naylor and its trade association clients since 1990, cultivating long-standing relationships with some of its most high-profile clients. Leslee has assisted in the creation of and edits several periodicals on a wide range of topics including transportation, aggregates and pool and spa. She received her B.S. in journalism from the University of Maryland at College Park.

Outsert Mail and Special Advertising Rates

Gatefold Front Cover
The inside front cover opens to a full-color double-page spread, putting your company at the forefront of the reader’s attention.

Center Gatefold
Put your company in the center of the entire magazine with an eight-page spread with enough room to showcase your entire product line.

Digital Belly Band
A full-color belly band wraps your message around the publication, making your company’s ad the first that readers see when they receive their copy. Include product descriptions, pictures and much more on the belly band’s surface. Your advertising message is bound into the seam of the publication.

Print Belly Band
Readers must detach the regular belly band to access the rest of the publication — your advertising message is certain to be noticed!

Outserts
Advertise your products and services by including your flyer, brochure or postcard in the clear plastic bag in which the TAPPI Products and Services Guide is mailed. Placing a direct-mail piece in the polybag with our publication will ensure tremendous exposure for your company.

DIGITIZE YOUR AD!
In addition to the printed version, we can attach your direct-mail piece or belly band to the digital publication for a nominal fee — simply supply the digital file of the ad in high-resolution PDF format. Additional charges apply to animated ads.

Naylor charges a $50 artwork surcharge for artwork creation or changes. This additional fee will appear on your final invoice if the artwork submitted is not publishing ready.
In addition to print, the TAPPI Products and Services Guide will be available to members in a fully interactive digital edition. Viewers can virtually flip through the pages, forward articles of interest to colleagues and click on ads to be redirected to the company’s website. Members and readers receive the publication via email and each new edition is posted on TAPPI's website. A full archive of past directories will be available, ensuring longevity for your online presence.

WITH THE DIGITAL EDITION, READERS CAN:

- Bookmark pages and insert notes
- Keyword search the entire magazine
- Navigate and magnify pages with one click
- Share articles on news and social networking sites
- View issues instantly from most smartphones and tablets
- View archives and find a list of articles for one-click access
- Read the issue online or download and print for later

TAPPI Journal is a world-recognized technical publication focused on forest products and related industries. Coverage includes pulp, paper, packaging, printing and wood fiber research, along with emerging fields such as biorefining, nonwovens, nanotechnology and other innovative cellulosic-based products and technologies. Through its stringent peer-review process and distinguished editorial board of academic and industry experts, TAPPI Journal publishes peer-reviewed, impactful basic and applied research articles, communications, and technical reviews.

TAPPI Journal is delivered to all members as an interactive, online monthly edition, accompanied by an end-of-the-year print summary containing abstracts of each paper printed during the year.

As an EXCLUSIVE member benefit, TAPPI Affiliate and Sustaining members will receive a printed “library edition”, which is a bound volume including the full text of every paper published during the year.

All full page advertisers with a 4x or higher frequency in Paper360° are entitled to a free ad placement in subsequent issues of TAPPI Journal.

THE TISSUE INDUSTRY

The global paper tissue and towel industry has experienced steady, sustained growth since the 1950s, especially in North America, Europe, and now China. In the mid to late 1990s, the tissue sector expanded into Asia (particularly China) and South America. As standards of living and disposable incomes increased in these areas, so did the demand for paper tissue, which ultimately lead to the acceleration of production in the paper tissue and towel industry. In the past decade, China has grown from almost no tissue production capacity to more than half that of the U.S. today, and is projected to take the global lead within the next decade.

NORTH AMERICA ACCOUNTS FOR MORE THAN 24% OF GLOBAL CONSUMPTION AND PRODUCTION.

WORLD DEMAND FOR TISSUE IS FORECAST TO GROW BY 2.9% PER YEAR, TO 50 MILLION TONS BY 2030.
